TIMELINE

STAYIN' ALIVE

Through seventy-five years of stayin' alive, the students at Roosevelt High School are still shakin', rattlin', and rollin'. In seventy-five years the students of Roosevelt have waltzed through the fox trot, the discos, the twist, the electric slide, the moonwalk, and the macarena. School days at Roosevelt High School have been filled with ups and downs, ins and outs, thrills and traumas, and trials and errors. The students of Roosevelt have not failed to lead the state of Iowa in academics, sports, character, spirit, and soul in seventy-five years.

scrambled through the hallways in pursuit of their classes. The school, set on a twenty-three acre plot of land, cost $1,065,600 to build, a trifle compared to what it would cost to build seventy-five years later. In 1923, grades 7-12 composed Roosevelt's student body. A student body vote occurred in homeroom where the colors navy blue and white won over black and gold with a very narrow margin. On October 8, 1923, Roosevelt officially began to wield navy blue and white as the colors of Teddy on his horse.

in history. The students of Roosevelt managed to keep their livelihood through the pandemonium of Prohibition, the Depression, Pearl Harbor, the Vietnam War, the assassination of JFK, Watergate, Martin Luther King Jr., Tinker vs. Des Moines Public Schools, the Persian Gulf War, and the O.J. Simpson trial.

The seventy-fifth class of Roosevelt began school on August 25, 1997 dancing down the hallways. The school had an initial enrollment of 1600 students in grades 9-12. The victory bell cried to the tune of a celebration in honor of its seventy-fifth year of educating top-notch students. At seventy-five healthy years, Roosevelt High School celebrated its dedication to academics, athletics, and stayin' alive.

September, 1923, the first bell echoed through the modified Gothic style high school. 1,082 students

TECHNO!

Two plus two isn't as simple as it used to be. From calculators to computers to coffee grinders, technology at TRHS has grown tremendously over 75 years.

In the 1920s, when Roosevelt was first built, the staff probably never even dreamed of having the opportunities we are given today. The advantages we have gained with this technology are colossal, but often not appreciated because they have been so integrated into our lives.

TRHS has accumulated many computers over the years. With these computers there are various classes which rely on their use, including keyboarding, computer applications, and journalism. The yearbook and newspaper staffs would not be nearly as successful without access to these high-tech machines. Almost every classroom contains a computer for the teacher's convenience. Even the attendance system is based completely around the computer system.

Computers aren't the only technological advancement found in the Roosevelt learning environment. Televisions and overhead projectors are installed in many classrooms which further enhance the teacher's abilities to provide more diverse learning styles.

Calculators have changed the curriculum of both the math and science departments at Roosevelt. They have been responsible for changes in textbooks and have recently been allowed to be used on standardized tests such as the ACT and SAT.

The changes technology has made in our world today are obvious in day to day life. If these inventions hadn't been made, we still may be in the age of using the abacus for math and the telegraph for communication.

4TH & GOAL...

This year's varsity football team worked hard and improved their skills throughout the season. Strenuous practices and a positive mentality created many opportunities for the team to be one of the strongest competitors in the conference.

Throughout the season, talent and skill was evident in many of the varsity players. The most obvious aspect of their game that developed was the maturity level of the team. Coach Tom Gruening said, "We are really excited that the team has developed so much from preseason."

The team was faced with a lot of adversity, due to ineligibility, injured players, and discipline problems. Junior David Adelman said, "We have had many ups and downs, but we have overcome a lot of the hardships."

Ability was not questionable for this year's team. Coach Walt Kennedy said, "One of our strengths are our skilled positions: defense, running backs, and wide receivers." Gruening added that there was a great work ethic. "We came back to meet challenges after bad games, and we practiced to win, not to lose."

A lack of discipline during the games was noted by the coaches as a weakness of the team as a whole.

Senior Donault Moore said, "The season wasn't what we expected with the talent that we had. We often didn't play up to the competition; we let too many teams have false hope."

This football season had its highs and lows, finishing the season with a record of 4-5. Nevertheless, the team played hard right up until the final quarter. Junior Shannon Schwartz said, "We have had a rough season, but we have all stuck together to end the season on a positive note."

TOUCHDOWN!

The 1997 freshmen and sophomore football teams have Roughrider football fans optimistic for the upcoming seasons. Freshmen head football coach Joe McQuerry and sophomore head coach Talmadge Tanks stressed mental toughness and unity as key factors in leading both teams to be city champions. Coach McQuerry said of his team, "In the category of knowledge and attitude, this is the most talented team I've ever coached in any sport." The freshmen team, led by quarterback freshman Kevin Egge and defensive end freshman Chris Yovonnie, wasn't necessarily centered around strength and speed, but rather the ability to put the ball in the end zone.

"The season went over 500 and turned out to be very positive," said Egge. The athletic ability and knowledge of the game from the freshmen was outstanding. Although half of McQuerry's team had never played organized football, the hard work and dedication this team displayed had this team as a top contender.

Tanks credited the widespread talent on the team. He said, "This team was never carried by one or two guys, a different player stepped up and set the tempo every game." Those several standout players were sophomores Tom Gruening, Anthony Ziegler, Omar Duncan, and Nick Anderson. These four players represented only a small percentage of talented athletes on the team. The team experienced a minor setback in the middle of the season when running back Gruening was sent to the hospital with no feeling in his limbs. "The team showed outstanding heart when we picked ourselves up and won that game for Tommy (Gruening)," said Tanks. Although Gruening was out for the remainder of the season, the team pulled together for a 6-2 record.

With the tactical skills of the freshmen and the technical skill of the sophomores, the combination of these squads could be unstoppable! Gear up for next year's tourney bound team!

Egge's highlight of the season was against Hoover when he threw three touchdown passes and one rushing touchdown. Yovonnie played both freshmen and sophomore as a defensive end. He recovered four fumbles for both teams. Omar Duncan, a sophomore speed demon, played on both sides of the ball at strong safety and split end. Duncan was a tempo setter for the sophomores and brought strong leadership on and off the field. Listen for these three standouts in the upcoming seasons of Rider football.

BRUTUSSES

The 1997 Lady Tankers were very optimistic about this season. They proved their strength finishing second at Conference, 4th place at Districts and finishing 25th place at the state meet.

Senior captain Carla Holtze reflects on this year's season by saying, "No matter what the stereotype of female swimmers is, I believe that we are a bunch of rough, tough brutesses! There is an element of team-unity that appears when girls are stroking towards a common goal." Senior Charlotte Lozier says, "Due to allegations made against us, we became stronger and we proved our Amazon-like physical and mental skills."

Head coach Steve Teter felt they had a great season. "What a year!" Teter said. "Great times, great splits and what motivation!"

The Tankers ended up qualifying five girls for state. Seniors Maggie Clark and Holtze, junior Brooke Badger, sophomores Sarah Kalhorn and Rachael Smith (as an alternate) and freshman Jeannette Neumann.

"There is an element of team unity that appears when girls are stroking towards a common goal."
-Senior Captain Carla Holtze

Holtze also qualified individually in the 100-yard backstroke and freestyle. Kalhorn qualified in the 500-yard freestyle. Neumann qualified individually in the 200 individual medley.

Although the Tankers will be losing a substantial amount of seniors, they have a positive outlook on next year. The strong support of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes will be able to pull them through.

FROM THE NET

With a volleyball team composed of very few seniors, the TRHS volleyball team managed to have a tremendous season. They spiked, set, and bumped the ball over the net for success.

The girls had lots of positive things to say about the team and the season. Sophomore Lindsay McAfee said, "The players were very dedicated and hard-working. By the end of the season the sophomore team had gotten to the point where we could actually read each others minds." Junior Mandy Hoyt had equally positive things to say about the team, "Everyone on the team worked really hard." Despite all the hard work, the team's scores hardly came close to being what they had hoped for.

The team played well at the District Tournament. Junior Kit Schwartz was nominated for first team All Conference, while juniors Lisa Edge and Eichelle Thomas and sophomores Lauren Haakenson and Liz Wagner received honorable mention All Conference.

Although the team will be losing valuable seniors Jessica Krohn and Kim Blythe, most of the team will be staying together. This makes the future bright for next year's teams.

FORE!

The TRHS girls golf team is going to have a good season, according to Orbie Boggs, who is the Varsity and Junior Varsity coach. "The team wants to improve our scores and win conference, then move on to the City series," said Coach Boggs.

The team is very small consisting of six girls on Varsity and four on Junior Varsity. Freshman Claire Woodburn said, "The team is pretty small, but we still have fun." Sophomore Lauren Haakinson and senior Valerie Miller are the only returning players from last year. Haakinson said, "It'll be a hard season, we lost four seniors from last year and had to make up a whole new Varsity team for this year." Miller added, "It's going to take a lot to get our team back together, but it looks as if we have a lot of talent."

The team practices daily, with the exception of Fridays, after school at the Waveland Golf Course.

Coach Boggs follows them on the golf course to give them pointers and improve their game. Coach Boggs said, "I'm looking forward to a good year, although it is going to be pretty competitive."

HOT AIR BALLOONS?

What a season! The 1997 boy's golf team was tremendous. They were undefeated in all dual meets and won the conference championship.

The team was well-balanced which was a great asset in their dual meet competition. Each team member's score was used in one meet or another during the season.

"We will miss the leadership of our seniors David Lowman, Todd Peterson, and Tom Venturini.

With sophomores Ben Hodge, John Textor and freshman Ben Scharnberg returning, next year's team should also have a good season," said coach Orbie Boggs.

"The season was like riding in a hot air balloon. We were getting higher and higher, until districts, then the fire ceased to burn. We tried throwing off the sandbags, but everything we tried wouldn't keep us from unexpectedly hitting the bottom, denying us from returning to the state tournament," said

Lowman. The team placed eighth in the Pella Invitational, first in the Waveland Invitational, City Series, and Conference meet, fourth in Districts and fifth in the Valley Invitational. Some of the members of this year's team work at the Waveland golf course allowing them extra time to practice.

-David Lowman

Lettering this year were seniors David Lowman, Todd Peterson, Riley Hogan, Tom Venturini, Andy Buchanan, Brandon Iseminger, sophomores Ben Hodge and John Textor, and freshman Ben Scharnberg.

Although the team did not advance to state this year, they certainly proved that they have the skills to qualify next year.

POOL PARTY

Although things didn't always go the way that this year's boys swim team wanted, the boys shrugged off adversity and made vast improvements over last year's times and record.

"Six a.m. practices, reps on 'the Beast' until the pain is unbearable, and the extreme dedication that swimming requires is reason enough for respect."
-Captain Eric Adelman

"On the improvement scale, we got a 13 out of 10 this year." Head Coach Steve Teter agreed, "We improved our record to seven and three, from five and four last season. We also in-state- this being our optimum goal."

The team suffered disappointing losses to Valley and Southeast Polk, the latter stinging a great deal. Stroope said, "Versus Southeast Polk we had a lot of guys sick and out for various reasons. Losing by nine points was heartbreaking, but we got them back at Districts."

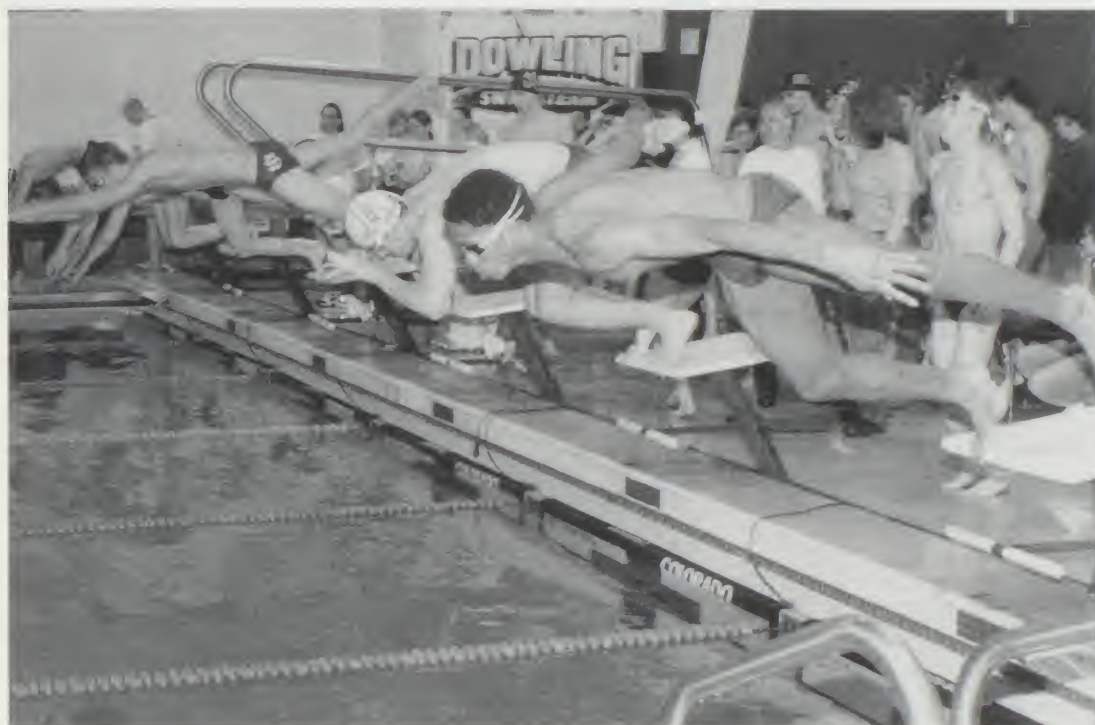

The highlight of the season was scraping past Hoover. Senior Nick Martin said, "Going into the last event, the 400 free relay, the score was tied. But we laid the smack down and beat their relay hard-core. Hoover is our biggest rival. Beating them was sweet."

The swimmers placed third at Districts, missing second-place Ottumwa by a few points. Teter said that it was a good meet for the team overall and was good preparation for the State swimmers.

Five boys participated in the State meet. Senior Captains Martin and Eric Adelman, junior Dylan Dewdney, and junior David Adelman swam in the 200 freestyle relay. Martin, Eric Adelman, Dewdney and Stroope swam the 400 freestyle relay. Also, Martin and Dewdney swam in the open 50 and 100 freestyle events. Although no Riders placed, all dropped time and left the meet satisfied.

Although conditions were adverse at times, everyone swam through the hardships and came out on top.

If looking for an all-star on the Rider Boys Swim team it would be hard to pass over senior Nick Martin. Martin has swam in the State Meet all four years, was part of a school record-setting 200 free relay, and has been a Captain this year. Coach Steve Teter said, "Nick has been a valuable asset to this team through his hard work and speedy swimming."

ALL-STARS

This year, the girls' cross country team spent the season rebuilding their team. There were many new additions to the team this year who ran in the top six positions. "The new girls really stepped up and led the team," said junior Claire Heger.

Coach Mark McConeghey was very impressed with the girls this year and said that they surprised a lot of people. "It was kind of a surprise. Nobody expected the girls to do as well as they did; neither the people who knew them, or the coaches from the other teams. We shocked everybody."

McConeghey said. Junior Kristin Cavanagh said, "We've had the best season the girls' team has ever had."

The girls started off on a good note including victories at the Ames Invitational and the Hoover Invitational. Despite these wins, the team was still disappointed with the season as a whole. They hit a few obstacles during the season which set them back. Sophomore Susie Hughes became ill with mono while number one, and sophomore Christine Atkins suffered from a stress fracture. The team placed fourth at the District meet. Cavanagh was the only girl to advance to the State meet, where she placed 44th.

"The team is like a family."

The girls began running together June 15th and enjoying each other's company. Atkins said, "The team is like family. We go out together on the weekends. It is a real bonding experience."

Senior Laura Lepley finishes her last season with the idea that, "Most people think that cross country is an individual sport, but the real essence of the sport depends on the complete participation from each member of the team for real success."

CRUISING

It's a bird, it's a plane, no it's the boys' cross country team! This year the team flew through their meets... at the speed of light. The season started off at a steady pace and by the middle of the season the team had really taken off. From there on out the wind was at their backs.

Losing Conference was a disappointment, but the team pulled through to win Districts. The 1997 boys' cross country team was the first team to ever win Districts in Roosevelt history. The team qualified senior Geoff Perkins, juniors Arik Anderson, Bob Atkins, Matt Johnson, Scott Lerner, and Tom Corrigan along with sophomore Trent Graham for the State meet in Fort Dodge. Atkins placed sixth and Graham placed twenty-sixth at the State meet. The team sent Atkins and Graham to the Regional competition on Thanksgiving weekend at the state meet.

"The team improved as a whole and pushed everyone to better times."

victory next season.

Coach Mark McConeghey said that stepping up to take the gold at the District meet was a success for the team. McConeghey said the guys improved their times by over 20 seconds over the season, a significant accomplishment, as compared to previous years. McConeghey is looking forward to a good season next year, acknowledging the fact that the team is only losing one out of its top seven runners.

With the combined attributes of a great coach and talented athletes, the team achieved many of their goals. Graham said of McConeghey, "He's been a real motivational coach for us this year." Senior Perkins said that he has thoroughly enjoyed running for the Roosevelt Cross Country team these past four years.

A FOR EFFORT

The Girls Varsity Basketball team had a lot to prove this year for rebuilding purposes. Although their winning record was 4-17 the girls finished the season with great attitudes and new friendships.

The team was led by senior captains Maggie Clark and Beth Tootill. Both Captains contributed skill, dedication and great leadership to the team. Clark was a key player averaging 14 points and 7.5 rebounds per game. She was named 2nd team All C.I.M.L. American and 1st team All S.W. District. Juniors Mary Tiffany and Kit Schwartz were also big contributors. Tiffany had an average of 5 points per game and Schwartz averaged 3 points per game.

"Although our box scores don't show it, we were the prettiest team around!"

-Senior Sara Gordon

Coach Gioffredi believes that the girls had a very productive season. He said,

"I feel the season was good even though we did not win as many games as we hoped to. The girls stayed positive throughout the good and the bad." The team grew both physically and mentally. Each team member was able to contribute in some way. Some members had to adjust to different positions to benefit the team. Their hard work and dedication payed off. This group of girls developed into responsible young adults and that in itself was the greatest accomplishment anyone could hope for.

...AND ONE

This year's boys varsity basketball team worked hard, but their results were not exactly up to par. Senior Pooh Malaythong said, "We prepared for every game, we just didn't execute." Execution was the key that was often lacking in the boys' games.

The captains of the team were seniors Donault Moore and Rici Jackson. They led the team through a rough season that consisted of a more than normal amount of illnesses and injuries. Coach Mike Holmes said, "At the beginning of the season we had numbers, but there was a stretch of games where we were playing without our main rebounder, scorer, and point guard." Nevertheless, the team competed well and had many close games on which they could not capitalize.

The American Conference this year was one of the hardest ever with three top ten ranked teams participating. The team's hardships were a hindrance, but "we proved that they could step up and play with the best teams in the conference, as well as in the state," said junior John Walker, in regard to their big win against archrival Dowling in sub-state.

As for next year's team, Holmes said that they will definitely be more offensive-minded, but they'll have to work on defense because of the loss of the seniors.

DETERMINATION

This year's freshmen and sophomore girls basketball teams had a tough season overall. The freshmen team had four wins and thirteen losses, while the sophomore team took seven wins and twelve losses.

"The team did good this year. We all came together and worked hard," said sophomore Karmen Coleman. With their strong team dedication and enthusiastic spirit, the girls team managed to have a hard working season on the court.

"We didn't win as many games as we hoped, but the team stuck together and never gave up. All the hard work we did and never giving up made up for the losses," said freshman Brenne Johnson. "The team had a great year regardless of the number of wins or losses," said coach Mike

Anderson.

This year's freshmen and sophomore girls basketball teams are bound together by tight strings of team unity, and that team unity will lead to much success in upcoming years.

HE SCORES

The season for both the boys freshmen and sophomore basketball teams was one filled with a lot of hard work and dedication. The players on both teams put forth maximum effort.

The sophomores had a positive attitude about the overall season. Sophomore Cooper Lewis described the season as "...a lot of fun. We had to struggle in the beginning, but we won our last game and that was really nice." Sophomore Jeremy Lamarche agreed saying that, "The team worked very hard. It all paid off when we won our final game." He also said that it was the fans "waving signs and cheering" that helped them win that last game of the season.

The freshmen players were equally positive about their season. According to Brent Wooters, coach of the freshman team, "There were a lot of good, hardworking guys on the team this year." Even though the scores of the freshmen were like that of the sophomores, not as many wins as they wanted, they didn't let that get them down.

Both of the teams are planning on coming back strong next year. Wooters also said that, "how good the players will be next year will depend on how hard they all work this summer." With continued teamwork, the future is a bright one.

TAKE-DOWN

Hard work, dedication, and optimism helped the Roosevelt wrestling team throughout their season. Although the team didn't finish as well as they had hoped, along with head coach Jay Groth, they look forward to next year's season. "We're an exceptionally young team that has improved along the course of the season. We still have a lot to learn about the sport of wrestling; however, we have a group of kids who work very hard and are willing to learn. I'm looking forward to the upcoming seasons," said Groth.

Mike Kalhorn and Travis Scott were the only seniors on the team, but they left an exceptionally good impression on RHS wrestling forever. Although they've both achieved a lot of success in the program, they believe that without the hard work of the coaches, their individual performances throughout the season might not have been so good. "I give a lot of credit to our coaches. They work harder than most coaches that I've ever had. When you have people like that behind you, it's much easier to perform better," said Kalhorn.

This year the District team consisted of seniors Kalhorn and Scott; Juniors Clint Carlson, Ken Eboh, Ben Harmon, Jacob Schmitz; Sophomore Pat Deremiah and Freshmen Josh Hines, Joe Hand, and Kent Casebolt. The District meet took place at Urbandale, and although there were no state qualifiers from Roosevelt, there were some very respectable performances. Carlson and Scott both finished fourth in their weight, and Kalhorn finished third. Even though Kalhorn didn't continue to State, "I felt I wrestled well," he said. Coach Groth, however, wasn't too happy with the performance at Districts.

Groth said, "We didn't wrestle up to our potential and it seemed like we were already making excuses why we couldn't go to State long before we got to Districts. Basically we were just ill-prepared."

Ending the season with a lot of disappointment, the coaches and the returning members are anxiously awaiting next year's team. Only losing two seniors, the team should be familiar, and hopefully this will help them to improve the reputation of RHS wrestling.

"We are an exceptionally young team that has improved along the course of the season."

GREASE LIGHTNING

Go grease lightning! This year's Girls Track team is bolting its way through the season. Coach Dick Hewins is expecting a great and disciplined season. The veterans of the team are leading the pack of novice runners. Veterans include sophomores Lolo Jones, Davonna Carr; juniors Ronni Caldwell, Kristin Cavanagh; and seniors Taylor Ewald and Christine Devore. "We're looking to repeat our wins in the state meet," said Cavanagh.

Senior leadership is predominant this season. "I love my team! This is one of the most compatible teams I've ever worked with," said Devore. The leadership and charisma of the senior track stars really binds the team together. Coach Hewins loves the senior leadership. "The girls can handle things out there on their own, without me stepping in. It takes a ton of pressure off of me. I have more time to dedicate to improving the more inexperienced runners." This quality of the team is what will carry the team to multiple victories.

Sophomore Lolo Jones has a lot of potential for this season. Jones' best event is the 100 m hurdles. She has set high expectations for herself, hoping to place well to outstanding in the State meet. She has already turned many heads throughout Des Moines by breaking all of Kim Carson's meet records while running for Roosevelt. "One of my biggest goals this season is to break Carson's state of Iowa record. I'm .26 seconds away from hitting it at this point in the season."

"I love my team!"
-senior Christine Devore

The 4 by 100 m relay team of Carr, Jones, Caldwell, and Ewald placed 1st at the Drake Relays with a time of 48.71, breaking the old record set in 1981. This same foursome hopes to place well in the 4 by 200 m relay at the State meet.

The team as a whole has many chances in different events to win State. Dedication and talent have contributed to the great potential of the Girls Track team.

The 1998 Boys Track team started off the season with a bang. With only a third of the meets having been run, many records already have been broken. The boys are optimistic for the rest of the season, and they know that the only direction they have to move in is up. Along with head coach Joe McQuerry, the team's main goal is to win the State meet.

The Drake Relays proved successful for the boys. The Sprint Medley team of Cyrus Nichols, Egan Hill, Willis Humphrey and Bobby Atkins took first place and broke the relays record. Nichols placed 7th in the 400M hurdles and 1st in the 100M hurdles. Atkins placed 4th in the 1600M run. Currently, there are many TRHS runners ranked in the top ten.

Although the team has many strong events, McQuerry said that they will be sacrificing some races in order to strengthen others. "We are working for the greatest goal of all...the State Championship," said McQuerry. With few seniors on the team this year, the potential for multiple good seasons is great. Freshman Kevin Egge has already begun anchoring sprint relays. Junior speed demon Bobby Atkins is having another good season, never finishing below third place in any of his events. "With all I've gained here at TRHS, I hope to give back to them a State Championship. This season will be the one."

BREAK POINT!

Spring 1998 may prove to be a tough season for the Girls Tennis team, but high confidence in their ultimate success is the prevailing attitude among the girls.

The team started off the year with tough losses to Ames and Valley, two girls tennis powerhouses. Head Coach Debbie Stetson said, "Our top four girls from last season are gone this year. Obviously this is contributing to our slow start. Many girls are finding themselves in positions that they haven't been expected to perform in before. They are going to have to up the ante and commit in order to succeed this season."

Even with the slow start, the team remained positive. Senior Sarah Hastings said, "We still plan to win the American Conference title. It is going to take hard work. With two losses already, there is a long road ahead."

This year's team was led by senior captains Katherine Hoekman and Ingrid Ganske; seniors Hastings, Teresa Waschle and Christy Fleming; and up-and-coming sophomore Whitney Austin-obviously a feisty group. The team's mentality is summed up by Hoekman, "The Rider Girls Tennis team is known statewide for smashing their opponents balls with finesse, grace, and power- there is no way that is going to change this year!"

SWINGERS

The Roosevelt Boys Tennis team has a chance of making this the best season they have ever had. The team's coach Debbie Stetson pushes the boys to strive for excellence. The team has many players with lots of past experience, as well as many new additions to the crew. The team practices after school and pushes themselves hard. Senior Tim McCarroll, one of the team captains, said, "This season is going to be good."

The varsity team consists of ten of the strongest players on the team. The players decide themselves what position they want to play by challenging each other in the first couple weeks of the season. This year's varsity team

"Matt (Loeb) and Tim (McCarroll) make a strong doubles team. They placed fourth in state last year, and should do well this year."
- junior Jeremy Strief

players are: seniors Nick Martin, Sean Hart, Bruno Van Lo, Tim McCarroll, and Jeff Easter; juniors Matt Loeb, and Jeremy Strief; sophomores David Nelson, and David McGaughey; and freshmen John Katelman. Although their season has just begun, they make up a strong team and should finish it well.

So far the season has not had much luck. Two of the first three games have been cancelled due to rain, and the biggest game was played against Valley. "This game is always a challenge, and will always be a challenge to the team. It is our biggest game of the season," said Stetson. The boys lost with a score of 3-8.

State Tournament

STRIKING

The 1998 Girls Soccer team started off the season with a bang. This is the first year for the sport to be sanctioned state-wide, which means there will finally be a state tournament for these hard working, dedicated young women. Coach Skip Quinn said, "Our chances of winning the state tournament look very optimistic. The girls work hard and have the attitudes that could bring the trophy home. Most importantly they know what it means to be a team."

"Our team is full of beautiful babies, and we're soooo money that we can't even believe it."
-Junior Kate Glasnapp

This year's team was led by two outstanding senior captains, Sara Gordon and Laura Lepley. When Gordon was asked how she felt about the team she responded, "We scare people!" Lepley said, "The team has a lot of

on the Varsity team."

The team had a very strong group of starters. They were Kate Glasnapp, Maria Isaakson, Julie Montgomery, Mary Tiffany, Lepley, Whitney May, Betsy West, Kate Peterson, Kit Schwartz, Gordon and goal keeper Emily Pullen.

As of May 20, the team was undefeated beating Mason City 6-0, Marshalltown 5-0 and Johnston 5-0. The girls credit good passing, respect, team unity and pigtails for their success.

Senior Laura Lepley has been a key factor to the success of TRHS girls soccer. She has been a four-year starter for the team. "Laura has a lot of experience and really knows how to play defense. She's great at moving the ball around and setting up other players for goals," said Coach Skip Quinn.

Despite the loss of many great seniors from last year, this year's boys varsity soccer team has really stepped up as a major contender once again, in both conference and state.

Leading the team this year were senior captains Louis Schneider and Andy Neumann. Former head coach Dan McCain was replaced by Jeff Chavannes, and the program also gained assistant coaches Mike Schnieders and John Hildenbrand. The players returned to this season after placing second in the state tournament last year to Valley.

The team did not take long to adjust to the new coaching staff. Schnieders said, "We have a friendly relationship with the team because we are so close to them in age, but that can cause some respect problems." He said that it was a problem in the beginning, but it has gotten better.

There was no question of the talent this season, yet the boys had some disappointing losses. They lost to Hoover twice, both times in shootouts. Chavannes said, "Some games have been real eye-openers that have shown this team that they still must work hard, no matter how good they think they are."

Senior Riley Hogan said, "The season was an uphill journey, but when we pulled together and played as one, we were a deadly force!"

UNITY

The softball team of 1997 did exceptionally well. Their record was 19-18, making it their first winning season since 1989. Two members were named second team all conference, shortstop Shanna Rokey was given honorable mention and Coach Pippert received Coach of the Year in their conference.

The teams of 1998 are looking forward to building upon their success from last season. Defense should be their strong point. There are some excellent varsity players returning who started last year. Some key players to look for this season are: senior Kim Blythe in infield and outfield; juniors Lisa Edge in infield and Beth Mensing catching. Also to look for are sophomore Mary Katherine Udrovich in outfield and freshman Tia Pena in infield and outfield. According to Coach Pippert, "This season the team should have strong defense and great unity."

The key to success is hard work and positive attitudes.

FULL COUNT

As another losing season came to a close in '97, the riders are feeling down, but they are far from out. The team looks to do better this year than they did last year. Last year the team won a total of five games the whole season. Coach Pat Yacinich has high hopes for this year's team, "Last year the team struggled a little at the beginning, but at the end of the season we learned how to work together more, and we started winning our last few games."

This year's team is looking to be promising due mostly to the team's returning players. The team's number one pitcher, Jon Bramhall, is returning for his senior year. Also returning for his senior year is Matt Christiansen. "Matt is a great infielder and is a good team leader," replied sophomore Brett Murphy. Murphy is joining the team as the starting second baseman and hopes that he can contribute to the team. The one person that Yacinich was sure not to forget was junior power hitter Chris Steele. Steele led the conference last year in hitting. The team is also looking forward to his long balls to help pull some victories. Coach Yacinich is also excited about juniors Clint Carlson, Cory Garner, and Jimmy Blanche to help out this year's team.

"Have fun, and beat our opponents while doing so."

-Coach Pat Yacinich

All in all the team and their coach are pumped and ready to hit the field and show us their Rider pride by having a winning season this year.

After all, coach Yacinich's advice this year was simple, "Have fun, and beat our opponents while doing so."

SIS BOOM BAH

Cheerleading has a totally new meaning this year. No more dumb and ditzy blondes whipping their long hair around, at least not the Roosevelt cheerleaders. This dedicated group of students carry the school spirit for the athletic teams at TRHS. The cheerleaders are coached and sponsored by Physical Education teacher, Terrie Grant.

The cheerleaders cheer for football, basketball and wrestling. For the first time at TRHS the cheerleaders competed at the state competition and were asked to cheer at the Drake basketball games.

Senior football cheerleader Meghan McCoy said, "We saw a lot of changes this year, and things will keep getting better." It's true. Most of the cheerleaders

"This year we got a lot better, we were more committed than we have ever been."

—Anita VanLo

agree that this year they have been a lot more committed to the team and have earned respect from the students. Junior Natalie Graziano-Davis said, "This year, people found out that cheerleading isn't just girls jumping around in skirts. It's actually hard work."

Junior Natalie Graziano-Davis has been a cheerleader since she was a freshman, and has been in gymnastics for twelve years. Natalie was selected to be an All-state cheerleader and will perform at half time of the boys state basketball game. Graziano-Davis said, "This year people are realizing that cheerleading is a sport."

BALANCING ACT

Not only have the hallways of TRHS changed over the 75 years, but so have the students walking through them. Today it is not completely out of the ordinary to be sitting next to a parent or soon to be parent in class. 75 years ago, pregnant girls would have dropped out of school or would have been forced to do so. But now, 75 years later, parents are able to stay in school and make a better life for themselves and their children through education.

"For many new parents it is hard to adjust to the changes that are involved with a new baby...it's all a balancing act." -Linda Fetters, GRADS teacher

For the past several years, a class has been available to help student mothers and fathers understand and cope with the responsibilities of being a teenage parent. GRADS is a (Graduation Reality and Dual Role Skills) class that has been designed for pregnant students and young parents to assist them in developing skills. Solving personal and family problems, nutrition, and CPR are among the other subjects that are covered in GRADS to help new parents. "However how hard we try and whatever age the parent, do we ever reach a balance in parenting?" asked GRADS teacher, Linda Fetters.

"Life has completely changed for me after having my baby. It's hard to find time for school work and my baby," said Senior Aasha Brown. Fetters added, "For many new parents it is hard to adjust to the changes that are involved with a new baby...it's all a balancing act."

SENIORS

YOU'VE COME A LONG WAY, BABY!

◆A Tribute To the Glorious 75 Years of Roosevelt Seniors◆

Far right: Three crazy studs from the class of 1964 measure their heads for their caps and gowns at Senior Graduation.

Below right: The eternal quest of a senior...What will I do after graduation? This senior from 1973 scopes out some of her college options.

Far right: Remember ruffles and baby blue tuxedos? This double date from the Senior Prom of 1976 sports the ever-classic style.

Right: Getting an education in 1948...some things never change!

Right: Ah, a kodak moment caught on film: a sweet kiss to capture the presence of love for royalty in 1956, at Homecoming activities.

Far Right: 1988- One of Roosevelt's last successfully sunny graduations on the front lawn, it is now held at the Knapp Center because of unpredictable spring weather.

DECKED OUT

9:00-Eager prom goer Ingrid Ganske starts the day off right with a big bowl of Reeses Peanut Butter Puffs. 10:00-Beth Ellenberger arrives at the hair salon for her bouffant hair style. 11:00-Phil Shires' long awaited package arrives from England containing a pair of specially made-for-prom orange velvet pants. 11:30-April Sherman heads to Roosevelt Bootery to pick out a pair of shoes to fit over her swollen ankle. 12:00-Rob Barron remembers that he forgot to order his date's corsage and goes out to cut some flowers from his own garden. 12:45-Eric Adelman and Gabe Brammer stop at Bauders for a Roosevelt Special after taking a ten mile bike ride. 1:00-Stacey Moore begins with her first layer of makeup getting "All Decked Out" for prom 2:30-Geoff Perkins desperately calls around the city of Des Moines attempting to get ahold of a candlelit table for two. 2:45-Beth Ellenberger tears down her hair when she finds a bird nesting in her bouffant. 3:00-Mindy Morain runs to pick-over-Portfolio to seize a jaw dropping gown. 3:30-The D.P. "cruises" to pick up their matching tuxes from Skeffingtons. Bow Wow Wow! 4:00-Britt Sievers hops into the shower and lathers his mop-on-top after Soccer practice. 5:00-Emily Wagner unties her True Value apron and zips up her dress. 5:30-Prom goers say cheese for mom and dad one last time. 6:00-Laura Lepley's high heel breaks. What a gimp. 7:00-Jeff Vincent dribbles marinara sauce down his white jacket. 7:30-John Ericson and Sarah Johnson blade through B-Bops for a classic prom cuisine. 8:00-Tim McCarroll makes a toast to the "beautiful babies" accompanying him at dinner. 9:30-James Leonardo fries like an egg to the band Freestyle. 10:00-Dan Forde fills out a ballot for prom King and kisses it for good luck. 11:30-Dan Forde graciously accepts the well-expected title of Prom King and belts out "We Built This City on Rock 'n Roll" and "The Boys are Back in Town." while Prom Queen Shanna Rokey chuckles at her royal mate. 12:00-exhausted Roosevelt prom goers hit the hay.

SENIOR BREAKFAST

May 14, 1998:

6:15 a.m.- The TRHS senior class gathers at the Marriot Hotel ballroom. They process through the buffet line containing fluffy surreal eggs and dry pastries, and onto gather with friends at their tables.

6:45 a.m.- After about thirty minutes of enjoying their cuisine, the seniors perk up to hear the reading of the 1998 Senior Awards by the senior class officers, Steve Ellerhoff, Maria Kramme, April Sherman, and Meghan McCoy.

7:00 a.m.- The breakfast is at an end. The 1998 senior class collects their party favor- a white cloth napkin with the blue and white TRHS emblem printed in one corner. With their stomachs full, and the napkins in hand, the TRHS senior class heads off for one of their last days of school.

CONGRATS!

On Sunday, May 24, hundreds of people filed into the Knapp Center at Drake University, anxiously awaiting Roosevelt's 1998 graduation.

Just as in previous years the band started the ceremonies with the song "Pomp and Circumstance." After the processional and welcome by Principal Larry Martindale, the concert choir sang two pieces directed by Mike Walag.

The '98 student valediction was given by Steve Ellerhoff. Ellerhoff creatively put together a song about the senior class to the theme of "Lady Madonna," by The Beatles. With the help of Walag, Ellerhoff sang his speech to his peers. Following Ellerhoff, Tom Long gave the faculty valediction.

Special Awards were then granted by Martindale and Vice Principal Gail Soesbe. This year's awards included: the Charlene Lakin Award to Mary Jane Acrea, the Cress O. Hoyt Award to April Sherman, the Wanda E. Everage Award to Donault Moore, the Cummings Memorial Award to Kristin Knittle, and the Herman Kirkpatrick Award to Chaur Nguyen. Also, Joshua Williams was the first recipient ever of the A. Arthur Davis Scholarship Award.

Then, the moment everyone was waiting for . . . the presentation of diplomas. Slowly, each senior walked across the stage, receiving their last high school award ever. The program was ended with the playing of "Fanfare and Recessional" by the concert band.

The journey is over! Now off to the real world. Congratulations and good luck in the future seniors.

THE LOST ARC

On Sunday, May 24th, 1998, Roosevelt High School was magically transformed into Riders of the Lost Arc by senior parents. Family, friends, students, and many other people from the community had the chance to tour the building before it was open to the seniors.

From 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. the school was filled with visitors. At 10:00p.m. the senior class entered the lost arc by crossing a wobbly foot bridge. To greet them was a large snake and many other wild animals. The seniors spent the night gambling, swimming, playing with Godzilla, and trying their talent at Karoke along with many other activities. The seniors had to duck under the parachutes, skip over sandbags, and dodge hanging siders and bats while racing from one activity to the "Sunday night was the time of my life. It is something I will never forget."

-Katie Bailey

The senior party was not only fun for the seniors, but it was also a lot of fun for the senior parents. Co-chairperson Pat Schneider said, "We really enjoyed working on the senior party. It was a lot of work but we had a great time. We think it's the best one yet, but that's just our opinion."

One special message all seniors would like to give to their parents and community contributors would be, "Thanks for a spectacular evening!"

STUD

TRENDS OF THE 1920S

For the women:

Flapper dresses were popular to wear, especially when doing the Charleston (a familiar dance of the era).

Dresses with a dropped waist and reduced bustline symbolized emancipation of women. Hair was worn short in a bob or curled up. A mixture of cold weather and silk stockings introduced new problems for women. The problems resulted in skin chaffing and swollen ankles. These problems were never addressed until the rise of shorter hemlines.

For the men:

Men of the 20's wore loose, baggy pants, and pin-striped three-piece suits.

TRENDS OF THE 1930S

The women of the 30's wore elaborate feather hats and dresses, as shown by Ginger above. Their dresses generally had tightly belted waists, gathered sleeves, and were long and elegant.

The men's clothes did not drastically change from the 20's. Men's bathing suits covered most of the torso, causing an interesting tan line.

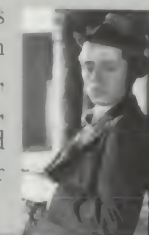

TRENDS OF THE 1940S

Well into the war, the dress was characteristically more conservative than the 30's and the roaring 20's. Colors were dull and hemlines remained just below the knee. Women's dresses were resourceful; they often sewed material to collars, sleeves, and hemlines to give the impression that they were designer dresses. Some other trends were bobby socks, corsets, the t-shirt, big shoes (for both men and women), pleated skirts, sweaters, and wide shoulder jackets.

TRENDS OF THE 1950S

Marilyn Monroe and James Dean exemplified the sexiness of the decade. The country was awash in fads, from 3-D glasses to dancing like Elvis Presley. The adults recoiled in horror from his high-energy pelvic gyrations.

Mass production of ready-to-wear clothing was gaining speed, replacing custom-made garb. Cardigans, belts, and zippers were popular. Women's apparel emphasized the hourglass figure, even though many of them remained in the workplace after the war. Man-made fibers, such as nylon and rayon became popular because of their low cost and convenience.

TRENDS OF THE 1960S

The 60's in fashion was an array of mods and minis, flower power, the ethnic look, and beehives. The attitude of young people was rebellious, and their dress reflected their views of the changing world. Young people prospered, and they spared no expense on their clothes.

Some trends of the 60's...

Long hair, mini skirts, narrow pants, narrow ties, t-shirt dresses, motorcycle suits, the waif look, psychedelic colors and prints, tie-dying, love beads, ruffled shirts, bob hair cuts, Sloppy-Joe sweaters, beatniks, lots of eye makeup, handmade sandals and berets.

OLD SKOOL

Some economists believed that the shorter the hemlines on skirts were, the better the economy was. If the hemlines were long, it symbolized a slump in production and trade.

This theory may seem outrageous, but it isn't very far off. Fashion trends tend to mimic economic, political, and social concerns of any given time.

The women's movement, for example, set many new, risky trends in fashion and gave women a more vivid sense of liberation.

The American public often looked to famous figures as trendsetters. People may have not exactly copied, say, Madonna's style (pointed bras?), but it did stimulate our creative side to dress according to our attitudes. So sit back and enjoy our rendition of the fashion trends of the past seventy-five years. And if you really feel motivated, dig up those old pictures, laugh at your hair and clothes, and remember the decades for what they were.

◆Laura Lepley and Marya Swenson

TRENDS OF THE 1970S

Changes that took place in the 70's such as increasing unemployment, the civil rights movement, gay liberation, the women's movement, environmental concern, antinuclear strategies, political independence, were reflected in the way people dressed.

Trends of the 70's...

Retro styles, feathered hair, large-collar shirts, stovepipe pants, designer hippies, bra burning, unshaved body hair, granny dresses, mid-calf granny boots, pant suits, jeans, skinheads, long leather jackets, health clubs, natural makeup, test-tube babies, bell bottoms, elephant pants, clogs, handmade clothes, scarfs and knitted hats, strappy wedge sandals, afros, leisure suits, big shoulder bags, drugs, disco.

TRENDS OF THE 1980S

Prince, MC Hammer, Michael Jackson, Annie Lennox, Cindi Lauper, Molly Ringwald, and the B-52s are just a few examples of the trendsetters of the 80's. Designer clothes were a necessity; labels such as Calvin Klein, Giorgio Armani, Ralph Lauren, and Guess were all the rage.

Trends of the 80's... Mohawks, ripped jeans, fluorescent and pastel colors, sweatshirts with the collars cut, high tops, break dancing, leg warmers, jogging suits, Polo shirts, jelly shoes, jelly bracelets, charm necklaces, big belts, sequins, spandex, body-building, jean jackets, tight-rolled jeans, layered clothes, Miami Vice, short shorts, punk rock.

TRENDS OF THE 1990S

Fashion in the 90's has been a do-all, anything goes frenzy. Designers have really pushed the limits, creating a melting pot of fashion from practically all of the decades. Fashion is an international affair; the whole world mourned when Gianni Versace was killed this year. Waif-thin models strut their stuff in the latest styles from Armani, Calvin Klein, Donna Karan, and Tommy Hilfiger, to name a few. TRHS sophomores Nick Jones and Erica Hill, senior John Ericson, and sophomore Johnny Textor are living and breathing examples of 90's fashion.

Trends of the 90's...

Color blocking, sports team's jackets and jerseys, lingerie, temporary tattoos, body piercing, henna, pagers, pleather clothes (plastic leather), slip dresses, booty pants, natural fabrics, minidresses, parkas, platform shoes, flip flops, translucent apparel, natural colors, leggings, workout clothes, big chunky heels, tank tops, baggy pants, baby tees, glitter, baby backpacks, retro styles, overalls, turtlenecks, reborn clothes, bell-bottoms, clogs, leisure suits, jogging shoes, nudity, black makeup and clothes, pastel makeup shades, plaid, khaki, painter's pants, boots, mesh shirts, scrunchies, hiking backpacks, hippacks, individual style- anything goes.

Homecoming Week '97 was full of traditions. Once again hall painting, street painting, tee peeing, the mixer and the car rally took place. Every day students walked through the hallways dressed to that day's theme. The themes included hat day, "flash from the past" day, class day, costume day, and the traditional blue and white day.

As the week began, campaigns could be heard of students wishing to be elected into the Homecoming Court. After intense consideration by their peers, the court was chosen. This year's court included freshmen Trisha Giancola and David Strickler, sophomores Erika Baty and Nick Anderson, and juniors Inta Eppright and Derrick Wilson. Congratulations!

The nominees for Queen were Jaime Giancola, Meghan McCoy, Shayla Smith, Laura Lepley and Christine Devore. The nominees for King were Steve Ellerhoff, Logan Smith, Donault Moore, Donnie Moore and Rici Jackson. This year's Roosevelt Homecoming Queen and King were Shayla Smith and Steve Ellerhoff.

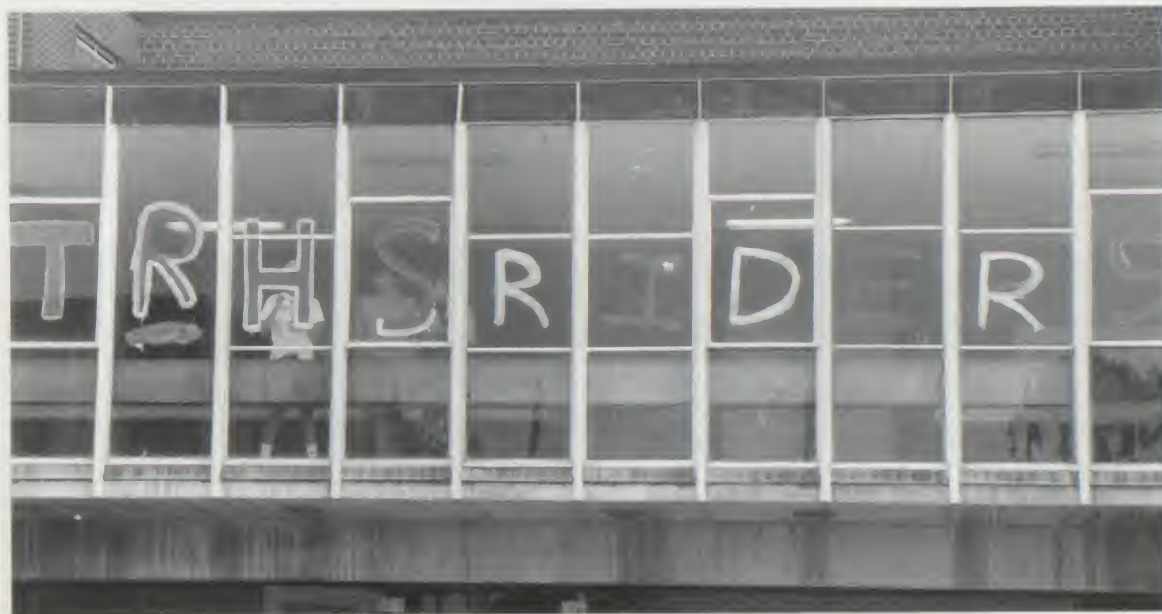

The "Big Game" against North High School on Friday night was a victory. At half-time North was ahead, but that didn't stop the Roughriders from showing their stuff. It ended with a Rider victory of 33 to 19.

This year's dance theme was "Under the Sea." Thanks to the creative minds of our student council, the gym decorations lived up to the name. With mermaids, fish, streamers, and bubbles produced by the D.J., the atmosphere produced was most definitely "Under the Sea."

One tradition that can't be overlooked is the tee peeing issue. Students this year were prohibited to tee pee the school's trees along Polk Boulevard. Students were warned that as soon as they set one foot on the campus, they would be arrested. Dr. Martindale and TRHS solved this problem by hosting a sanctioned tee pee evening for all students wishing to keep the tradition alive.

Homecoming Week turned out to be a great time for the entire student body. The activities went well, people had fun, and best of all, no one was arrested!

VOTES ARE IN!

The votes are in for the Man and Woman of the year! There were four senior men nominated for this honorable title: Rici Jackson, Donault Moore, Donnie Moore, and Steve Ellerhoff. Likewise, four senior women were nominated for the prestigious woman of the year award: Maggie Clark, Laura Lepley, Shayla Smith, and Ingrid Ganske.

All of the nominees were subjected to the showing of childhood pictures on a large movie screen on the auditorium stage. Birthdays, athletics, and of course the always so embarrassing bathtub shots were included in the presentation. "The slide show was wonderful! Phil Lee put it all together and should get all the credit," said Lepley. "It was fun to see pictures of the candidates' past. It was a way to get to know the nominees even better than before," added senior Teresa Waschle.

And now for the envelope please, the winners are...Laura Lepley for the woman of the year and a tie between Rici Jackson and Donault Moore for man of the year. The winners were announced at the Spree Dance after the seniors voted at the assembly.

"It was the best time of my life."
—senior Steve Ellerhoff

"It was such an honor to be nominated and be considered for this wonderful award. It was the best time of my life," said Ellerhoff.

FUNKYTOWN

On April 16, 17, and 18, the Roosevelt swimming pool was transformed into "Funkytown." Yes, the Sharks were at it once again. They swam to the rhythms of motown and funk.

Despite some unwanted objects launched into the pool on Saturday night, the show went very well. Through after school practices and long Saturday rehearsals, the girls worked very hard to put the show together. Freshman Claire Woodburn said with confidence prior to the show, "Pageant is going to be awesome!"

The script and skits that the ushers and MC's follow was restricted by the administration due to problems in the past. There was a limited amount of things the men could perform and say. This year's ushers included: Mike McCauley, Eric Adelman, Donault Moore, David Lowman, Nick Martin, Chris Monsma, Riley Hogan, Wes Graham, and MC's: Peter Caldbeck and Steve Ellerhoff.

In addition to the normal incoming freshmen, the Sharks had another new member this year . . . Mike Wilson took the position of school sponsor. Wilson enjoyed the season and said, "Members of this year's group are sure to achieve future successes. They had an outstanding commitment of time and effort." Wilson acted as the intermediary between the girls and the administration. He helped to organize the fundraisers and other pageant operations. He was instrumental in the improved communication between the club and the administration this year.

The Sharks club took the crowd on a joyride to Funkytown. The synchronized swimming was some of the best that it's ever been.

ISLAND ROMANCE

The cast and crew of 1997's musical, Once on This Island, proved why they tell the story.

Once on this Island is set in a Haitian village in the midst of a great storm. A child in the village becomes frightened by the ferocious wind and rain so the townspeople tell her a story to quiet her fears. The main character of their story is a peasant girl, Ti Moune, played by senior Mary Jane Acree. Her dream is to marry a Frenchman, Daniel played by senior Matt Hagen who wrecked his car near her farm. Ti Moune, aided by four Hatian gods, nurse Daniel back to health. Eventually he returns home-without Ti Moune. Ti Moune journeys to the city to seek out Daniel and wins his love. However, he is not allowed to marry a peasant and weds a wealthy Frenchwoman named Andrea played by senior Celia Stroope. Ti Moune, crushed, is made into a tree outside the castle by the gods to remind all of the power of love.

TRHS's performing of Once on This Island was a unique musical for a variety of reasons. First it had a small cast compared to some musicals TRHS has done in the past. Acree said, "Working with a smaller cast was nice because we were able to get to know each other better." Lori Glawe, TRHS drama director, added, "We were able to keep the whole cast on stage for the duration of the performance. This helped add to the portraying of a storytelling."

"The music's upbeat style made it enjoyable for the cast and pit to perform."

-Lori Glawe

Once on this Island marked Glawe's first performance as TRHS's drama department head. The cast enjoyed her relaxed approach to producing the show. Hagen said, "Mrs. Glawe was very cool. Her laid-back style made practice more enjoyable." Acree added, "She did an excellent job of motivating us when we needed it."

The music was challenging yet rewarding. Glawe said, "The music's upbeat style made it enjoyable for the cast and pit to perform." Once on This Island proved to be a refreshing exhibition for TRHS.

SENSATIONAL

This year's spring production, Flower's For Algernon, had success written all over it. "The play was a very successful one, and we are all proud of it," said senior Matt Hagen. The production took place on March 13 and 14, and the reaction was that it was a smashing hit. The production was a unique one, in the sense of drama ability it required to present this amazing story.

The director of this play, Lori Glawe, drama teacher at TRHS, said, "This play had a real challenge to meet. The students had to do research about the mentally challenged, and how to work with them. In the end, they really met their challenge." The actors and actresses were determined to meet their goal of success, and the goal was achieved. Hagen added, "It was a little rough around the edges at first, but we pulled together, and made for a wonderful show."

What made this play one of a kind was the performance of senior Annie Wiegand, who is hearing impaired. This does not stop Wiegand from performing though. "I was thankful I could play the character. I showed the audience what a deaf actress could do," said Wiegand. Wiegand travelled to Scotland in the summer of '97 to perform, which gave her experience in acting. "I learned so much in Scotland. I matured as an actress, which helped me a lot in this play," said Wiegand, "everything was great. We had a lot of people come. It was my last acting experience at TRHS, which made it special for me. It was my finale."

"The play was a real success. Every aspect really came together."
- Lori Glawe

but the audience did too. Freshman Amelia Chadwick said, "I thought it was cool how they used a real rat for Algernon." This year's spring play seemed to be a real hit. The story included a serious situation with an exuberant cast the audience did too. Chadwick added, "I thought it was cool how they used a real rat for Algernon." This year's spring play seemed to be a real hit. The story included a serious story, with an exuberant cast.

Not only did the cast enjoy the performance,

The '97-'98 school year "was a banner year for the vocal music department," said choir director Mike Walag. "The quality and quantity of the students was outstanding. Many students have achieved personal success and the choirs as a whole have reached an incredible goal," said Walag.

"We're finally getting the respect we deserve."

Every year the TRHS vocal department is honored with the privilege of sending students to the All-State Choir. This years vocalists included Mary Jane Acrea, Ian Allen, David Anderson, Megan Anderson, Tiffany Bradley, Matt Hagen, Josh Martin, Ryan Milligan and Nicole Schoelerman. This years TRHS Opus participants were Shiloh Ballantyne, John Hudson, Kelsey May, and James McNear.

Last year Mary Anne Sims proved to be a very helpful addition to the vocal music department. Senior Clifford Hobbs said, "Mrs. Sims has improved the show choirs 1000%". Hobbs feels "the department is stronger than it ever has before."

Your bright smile, your leadership, and your caring ways- all of these make us very proud.

-Your whole family-

Eric Adelman

Dear E,

With great love and pride we have watched you grow into a fine young man. The past 18 years have been a wonderful trip in your life's journey. May your journeys continue to be productive and exciting, and may they be filled with compassion, integrity, and love. Don't let the song you've come to sing remain unsung.

All our love,
Mom, Dad, David, and Peter

Megan Anderson

Dear Megs,

Thank you for coming to live at our house, and for the warmth you bring into our lives. We celebrate your achievements, admire your talents, and marvel at your goodness. We can't wait to see how you (and we) turn out!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Aaron, and Neil

Katie Bailey

Kate-

It's been quite an adventure these past 18 years. We can't wait to see where life takes you next. Thanks for taking us along on the ride. Things are never dull when you're around.

Love you little girl,
Mom, Dad, and Addison

Amy Bindel

Sunrise, Sunset... Sunrise, Sunset
Quickly fly the years...

High school graduation! One of life's big milestones! Your family is very proud you, Amy! This isn't the end though... keep yourself focused on your goals. We know you can achieve them.

We love you, Amy!
Mom, Dad, Kim, and Dan

Jon Bramhall

Jon,

Best wishes on the future that lies ahead of you. Hold onto your values and beliefs, always be true to yourself, and never, never forget the way home. Oh, and while you're at it, hit one out of the park for us!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Ben

T.J. Brower

Congratulations- Well done!

We are very proud of you and your achievements. Now harness yourself, master your towering potential- keep climbing!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Artie

Maggie Brindley

Maggie,

When you open your eyes and your heart to the beauty that lies around you, to the strength that lies within you, and to all that lies before you. Not miles or years or new found friends will ever take away the part of you inside our hearts.

Love,
Mom, Bobby, Billy, and Katie

Charity Butts

Charity,

You have grown from a beautiful baby to a beautiful woman. You have shown great strength and courage throughout your life. That same strength and courage will help you to become and do your very best. We will always love you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Peter Caldbeck

Peter,

As you ride/ write off into the sunset, don't let anything throw you! Happy trails to you.

We love you,

Mom, Dad, Kelly, Megan, and Sadie

Betsy Christensen

To Betsy-

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams. Keep dreaming!

We love you!
Mom and Dad

Matthew Christiansen

Believe
Conceive
Achieve
Be patient, you will reach your goals.
Trust in yourself.
I am very proud of you.

Love,
Mom

Ronnie Lee Cyrus

Ronnie-

As you were climbing the ladder to success, there was no mountain high enough or river wide enough to keep you from succeeding. You're not only a strong-willed young lady, but a committed one as well. You've had a lot of baggage, but you choose to kick it to the curb and live each day to the fullest. As a young parent, there's not enough I can say, you've had to grow up fast. I cry at times when I see you and your child praying or even going to church together. With the Lord in your heart and on your side you'll conquer whatever you choose. I did want you to know, I was always there for you. I've had some growing to do myself, and when I got angry, it was out of love. You know me, I'm a big crybaby, and I hate to see you go, so I close by saying AV de Zoe. I wish you and Ariea all the happiness in the world!

Love you,
Grandma

Erika Earp

That smile of yours has always warmed my heart. I've learned that the simple things are the most satisfying. Keep your life simple, keep your sense of humor, and keep smiling.

I love you very much,
Dad

Jeff Easter

Jeff-

You have always been a joy to your family: the glue that bonds you to your brothers, a loyal friend to others, a source of strength in troubled times, an optimist who believes in outreach to others. Best wishes in your college years. I'll beat a drum for you today and always.

Love,
Mom

Melissa Eittreim

We are so proud of you and wish you the best of everything. May your future bring all the joy and happiness you have brought us. Keep smiling!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Shannon

John Ericson

Congratulations John,

No question... you did it your way.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Melissa Faber

Congratulations:

To our little wisser. We are very proud of you and hope for your continued success in college and throughout the rest of your life. We know you can do it.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Kelly Flattery

Kelly,

This is such an exciting time! Pursue your dreams and embrace life- no matter where the road takes you. Spread your wings, but don't get lost, "little lamb." Love you always,

Mom

Congratulations, Kelly! We'll always be "spring oreo sisters!" Love,

Cailin

Good luck, Kelly! I'll be happy to get my phone back. Love,

Danny

Christy Fleming

Congratulations, Pumpkin Pie! We are very proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Dan Forde

Dan,

Our hearts fill with love and pride when we see how the beautiful boy you were has become the accomplished young man you are now. You have enriched our lives significantly, as we know you'll enrich the lives of many as you continue on your journey. You're the best of the best!

Love always,
Mom, Dad, and Grandma

Ingrid Ganske

You've done it and you've done it with excellence.

- Your family
We love you very much.

Christine "Tina" Giersch

Thanks for the privilege of sharing the ten months of your life in the United States.

Love,
Your U.S. Mom

Sara Gordon

Sara,

Your future holds many challenges and rewards. Here's to a wonderful person who has made us very proud. We love you. We will always be here for you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Wes Graham

Wes,

From Superboy to Superman, you've always been our hero! We love you,

- Mom, Dad, Maggie,
Caitlin, Ruff, and Fletch

Jeffrey Greenberg

Jeffrey,

You have always brought joy and happiness into our lives. You are a special person. Congratulations on your graduation.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Lee

Matt Hagen

When you were a baby, we sang your favorite lullaby:

"You're the end of the rainbow,
our pot of gold.

A treasure worth more than can ever be told..."

Those words are still true today. You make us proud and happy. We love you.

- Mom, Dad, Courtney, and
Grandma

Tara Hausafus

Tara Ann:

A little girl, our Precious Pearl has grown

Keep the connection between Voice users and TTY users!

Telecommunications Relay Services Provides...

- An important communication link between hearing users of standard (voice) telephone and those who use a TTY (Text Telephone).
- A "free" statewide relay service that allows all residents (who are deaf, hard of hearing, speech-disabled and hearing) to place and receive calls from anyone, anywhere and anytime in the world!
- Toll-free access, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days per year with no restriction on the length and number of calls placed by relay users.
- No fees or charges for local calls, and long distance calls are billed at the reduced rate.
- Totally confidential.
- Fully trained Communication Assistants (CA).
- Voice Carry Over (VCO): You can use your own voice and reads the text message.
- Hearing Carry Over (HCO): You can use your own hearing and type the message.

Annie-Happy Graduation!!

To Annie Wiegand-this is for you, created by all the friends and teachers you have met in your life inside and outside school. Congratulations on your graduation! You will go on to bigger and better things. A whole future awaits you to live it. Follow your dream and your heart, it will lead to success. "To be a winner... all you need to give is all you have." We all love you!! Good luck in college and wherever you go.
